"Prepare for something amazing"

Secretary-General of Sreyas Model United Nations '18, CSV Karthik, says delegates have a great time in store

INTERNATIONAL PRESS: Sec-Gen Karthik, thanks for talking to us. Could you tell us about how the idea for this conference came into being?

SECRETARY GENERAL: Thank you. Studying in an engineering college, extra-curricular activities, especially literary ones, are hard to come by. The core committee came together and decided that conducting a MUN conference would go a long way in building an intellectually stimulating atmosphere. One thing led to another, and here we are!

IP: The conference is almost here. How was the journey so far?

SG: Sounds clichéd, but everything has its ups and downs. The journey was by far one of the most wonderful things I've been part of. Working with like-minded people, putting plans in to action, setting the stage, and getting things done – it's been hectic, but wonderful at the same time. We've had tough days, but perseverance gets us through, doesn't it?

IP: What have you in store for the delegates from various colleges who will be attending the conference?

SG: On 2nd, 3rd, and 4th of February, the three councils - HRC, SC, and DISEC will be in session simultaneously. All arrangement are in place – all that remains is the arrival of the delegates. We've also planned an exciting social event. Because all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy! On a more serious note, I hope that the delegates will make the best of this opportunity and have a fruitful time here. Delegates, prepare for something amazing.

"When responsibilities grow, your abilities will too"

Charge d'affaires Prajwal Shukla talks about his journey in the organizing committee of Sreyas Model United Nations 2018

P: What is your role? And what functions are you supposed to carry out?

CA: I am the Charge d'affaires for the Sreyas Model United Nations '18 conference. It is basically a managerial position which entails that I oversee all operations carried out by the various divisions of the organizing committee. It is great to see all of them working together, hand-in-hand, to see that this vision comes true.

P: How did your journey with SMUN start?

CA: I was first approached by the Sec-Gen, CSV Karthik, to be part of the very first edition of SMUN. I have been an active part of various NSS activities, so I had the good fortune of participating in many such events before. As the work grew, my responsibilities grew, and so did my abilities.

IP: What were the highs and lows of the organizing process?

CA: That's an easy one.

The highs, which were more frequent, were when all of us turned up, stuck to the plan, and did what we had to. The lows – when we didn't do that! Thankfully, we have a great OC team which put in a lot of effort to make this a great success.

IP: The delegates are only a day away. What do you have in store for them?

CA: I will personally be staying at the designated accommodation – Kubera Hotel, Himayathnagar. If they require any sort of help or assistance there, well, I'll be there. During the session here at Sreyas Institute of Engineering and Technology, the team will be dedicated to ensuring the utmost comfort of the delegates. There are specific departments for dealing with Delegate relations and affairs, and I will be coordinating with both to ensure nothing goes amiss.

5th Anniversary of SHE Teams

HYDERABAD: Underlining the importance of formation of SHE teams, a special wing to deal with women related issues in the State, Director General of Police (DGP) M Mahendar Reddy has said that a total 2,607 FIRs were registered against miscreants for teasing women since the formation of teams five years ago.

He was speaking at the fifth-anniversary celebrations of SHE teams here on Thursday. On the occasion, Home Minister Mehmood Ali, along with other ministers and senior police officials released booklets and videos.

“First time in India, the Telangana police have introduced the special wing for women and it was an inspiration to many states to set up similar teams for the safety of women. There are a total of 310 SHE teams working round-the-clock in coordination with the local police in the State. The teams identify hot spots and carry out regular surveillance of the area to nab the wrongdoers,” the DGP explained.

New initiatives like e-learning courses on Women Safety and Cyber Crime, special software for functioning of SHE Teams, dedicated social media platforms of Twitter, Facebook, Instagram and YouTube were launched for the purpose of creating awareness regarding women safety. A documentary film on SHE Teams and 5 other short films were also launched on the occasion.

IGP and in-charge of SHE teams Swati Lakra said that the modality of creating a new team was specially designed for women safety and to address sexual harassment issues. “A sense of confidence is what the government wanted to provide to the women and the task though herculean was achieved within a short time. The top brass of the Telangana State police after studying the success of the SHE team’s concept in the city introduced it across the State,” she added.
